Managing Absence Requests

As a manager, you are responsible for reviewing and approving absence requests for your direct reports. You can also enter and edit absences for your direct reports as well as view their absence balances and absence history.

An absence process runs at the end of each pay period subtracting time off taken from the employee’s absence balance and adding earned time* to the balance.

*Reference the Paid Time Off Calculation Section for timing details when specific absence balances are updated.

Entries and edits to be processed in the current pay period can be made until the deadline for the pay period. The pay period processing dates (semi-monthly and bi-weekly) are listed in the PAC Absence Processing Schedule Job Aids, respectively.

Absence data can be retroactively entered for a period up to 180 days prior from the last absence processing finalization.

Managing Absence Requests

Monthly Absence Calendar

The monthly calendar provides an at-a-glance view of your team absences from a single page view as well as a convenient way to approve pending absences.

The calendar defaults to the current month but can be changed by selecting a different month/year at the top of the page.

There are three icons on the calendar that allow you to easily identify:
1. Holiday – University holidays noted with a suitcase
2. Approved Absences – noted with a green star. Click the green star and a pop-up box appears showing the employees who have an approved absence for that day. This is view only and no actions can be taken
3. Pending Absences - noted with a red star. Click the red star and a pop-up box appears showing the number of employees who requested absences for that day.

To Review a Pending Absence: Click the red star and a pop-up box appears showing employees who requested absences for that day. Click the Go to Approve Absence Requests link in the pop-up window and you will be taken directly to the Approve Absence Request page, where you can see the complete list of all pending requests to review the request.

Pending absences will only include absences in Submitted status
➢ To return to the monthly calendar, click the Return button or click the “X” at the top right of the pop-up page

Pending Absences and Delegation

If you are a proxy for another manager - You will only see pending requests from your direct reports on the calendar. If another manager delegated their time and absence responsibilities to you, you will not see their direct reports on the calendar. If you are acting as a proxy, once you click the link in the pop-up window, you will be asked to make a selection for processing your own transactions or those who were delegated to you.

If you delegate to another manager - You will not see any pending requests from your direct reports during the period of delegation as they are in your proxy’s queue. However, once the proxy approves the request, you will see the approved absence on your monthly calendar. .
Approve Absence Requests

Absences must be approved by the absence processing deadline for the pay period to be reflected in the employee’s history and balance at the end of the pay period.

Click on the Employee’s Name link to access each individual request. After accessing an absence request, the details appear on the page.

1. Review the request comparing the amount of time requested to the available balance. *See Reviewing Absence Balances section

2. Review any Comments the employee entered. You can also enter a comment in the field if needed

3. To approve the request, click “Approve” and then “Yes” to confirm the submission and then “Ok” to the confirmation message. The request no longer appears in the ‘Pending’ view of the Approving Absence Requests page

If any vacation or personal time only will be in the negative, it will display in a red color alerting you that the employee does not have sufficient time available to use for the request. Important! When approving absence requests, it is important to review the request along with the balance information displayed in the details of the request before approving to ensure the employee has enough time available for the request. If more time is submitted for an absence than is available or if it requires a change, push it back to the employee asking them to correct it.

Reviewing Absence Balances

When reviewing an absence, balance information for three (3) points in time displays directly on that page:

- Current Balance as of [DATE]: this is the balance for vacation/personal/sick/NYC sick time as of the last date the absence process finalized
- Balance Through this Request: the projected balance through the current request - vacation/personal only
- Balance at 06/30/ [YEAR]: the projected balance at the end of the current fiscal year - vacation/personal only

See the Viewing Staff Absence Balances and History section for more information.

Absence Requests and Unavailable Time

Absence requests greater than the available balance through this request should not be submitted.

- For Time Reporters, if an absence is requested for more time off than is available, push this back for correction (to align the request to available time). If the request is approved, an exception will generate notifying you and that it needs to be resolved. If an absence without pay adjustment is required, see the Subtracting Pay and Managing Exceptions sections of the Managing Timesheets job aid for more information
- For Officers, a negative balance will be viewable on the Negative Balance report

Push Back or Deny Absence Requests

If after reviewing the absence request it needs to be modified, you can send it back to the employee to edit.

1. Enter a comment into the “Approver Comments” field
2. Click “Push Back” then “Yes” and “Ok” to the confirmation messages. The request is now in the employee’s request queue for editing
3. Click “Deny” to deny the request

Caution! If an absence request is denied, a same type absence event for the same or overlapping date(s) cannot be entered until the Absence Process runs at the end of the pay period. A different absence type can be submitted for the same or overlapping dates.

A Push Back is the return of a time entry item to the employee requesting an update to the entry or there is a question on the entry.

A Deny is the disallowance of the time entry item. The item is returned to the employee to delete and re-enter as needed.
